

Greg Olinger, Chief Engineer of the Coastal Water Authority since 2012, leads an organization of 75 employees responsible for the conveyance and distribution of up to 1 billion gallons per day of raw water supply to the City of Houston's water purification plants and industrial customers. Mr. Olinger has worked in the civil infrastructure public and private sectors for over 25 years. He is a graduate of the U.S. Military Academy and is a Registered Professional Engineer in the State of Texas.